

DISCOVERING TEAM EFFECTIVENESS

Do you want to develop real team spirit within your business?

How could your teams work smarter and work together?

How can you ensure your team works as a team and not in isolation?

WHAT IS IT?

- IGNITE'S Discovering Team Effectiveness is a one day, highly motivational and engaging workshop.
- Under-pinning the learning is The Insights Discovery Personal Profile, a personal and team development tool which gives teams a reinforcing and transformational insight into themselves and other team members, increasing both performance effectiveness and understanding.
- The workshop's interactive exercises graphically show and explain the uniqueness of each individual in the team (their personality type) and clearly illustrates how recognising and valuing others does have a major impact on their relationships and the team's overall productivity.

WHAT WILL IT DO?

- Creates a positive, non-threatening environment for discussing differences, challenges and resolving conflict by reinforcing the message that all have a positive part to play in achieving results.
- Enables the team to quickly understand their strengths and challenges. It highlights and clearly informs participants of their preferences in effective and non-effective communication and inter-personal skills.
- Unlike other 'team building sessions' this engaging workshop is structured to enable participants to measure themselves and then to take immediate individual and team action when back in the work environment.

WHO WILL IT BENEFIT?

All individuals and teams within an organisation.

PRIOR TO THE WORKSHOP

Participants complete a simple on-line evaluator, which takes only 20 minutes. The output is a 25 page profile which is given to the participant at the workshop.

The profile helps the individual to gain a detailed understanding of their personal style, and how this impacts on their relationships in team situations.

The Insights Discovery model graphically shows individual and team preferences in Attitudinal Functions using colour as a simple and memorable system, enabling people to quickly develop their interpersonal skills, improve team performance and create a more positive, productive cultural environment.

What Our Clients Say:

"Our team recently had the opportunity to work through a full one day session and we walked away with a renewed ability to stop and try to understand, or at least acknowledge, the different communication style each team member has. I love that the team now has a deeper respect for one another's needs,"
